I am a resident in Huddersfield and regularly visit the area as we love walking around Holmfirth and this route that utilises Wolfstones Road.

I welcome the new pathway and think it is so much more pleasant, enjoyable and safer.

The crossing point in particular of the existing route has always been a concern for me as some cars come flying around the corner. I am now able to see better up and down the road using the new route and there is now a verge we are able to walk on again making crossing here much safer than the old route.

The work that has been carried out on the new route is beautiful and really sympathetic to the area. It's a pleasure to walk down and much safer.

Kind Regards,

Julie Gledhill
